Prospective Member Attendance at ADMA Meetings

1. Prospective members may be invited to attend ADMA meetings on a preview basis. A prospective would attend as the guest of an existing member company. The member would be responsible for the conduct of the guest during the meeting. In order to represent the value of the ADMA meeting and the private conference format, prospectives would be welcome to participate in private conferences only if the participating companies agreed in advance.
2. A prospective member may visit an ADMA meeting as a sponsored guest of an active ADMA Member if the following requirements are met:
 - (a) The prospective member meets ADMA manufacturer or distributor membership criteria.
 - (b) The prospective member has filled out an application form.
 - (c) ADMA staff has reviewed the application and given pre-qualification approval of the membership requirements.
 - (d) The prospective member has a sponsor for the meeting. The sponsor is responsible for the prospective member's conduct and behavior at the meeting.
 - (e) The prospective member would be able to attend pre-arranged ADMA meetings and functions. Attendance at private conferences would be permitted only if there were no objection by either party holding the private conference meeting. The host member must make known that his/her guest wishes to visit, prior to the ADMA private conferences, to avoid any awkward situations and that the prospect may be precluded from sensitive portions of the meeting.
 - (f) In the event a prospective member cannot find a sponsor, the ADMA staff will work with the Membership Chair to assign a host member.
